

EBP Seminar

Using Nursing Research in Clinical Practice: Luxury or Necessity?

PURPOSE:

An introductory seminar to help RNs understand the importance of using research evidence in daily practice to promote best possible outcomes for patients/families. The fundamentals of evidence-based practice will be highlighted in this seminar, including how to read and interpret a published nursing research study. Many practical examples of how nursing practices have changed as a direct result of research findings will be emphasized.

AUDIENCE:

This 4-hour seminar is open to all RNs who have an interest in learning skills related to evidence-based practice.

2008 SEMINAR DATES:

Date	Time	Place	Registration Deadline
March 6, 2008	7:30 a.m. - noon	9th Floor	2/1/08
June 5, 2008	7:30 a.m. - noon	9th Floor	5/1/08
Sept. 11, 2008	7:30 a.m. - noon	St. Luke's	8/1/08
Dec. 4, 2008	7:30 a.m. - noon	9th Floor	11/1/08

4.4 CEUs Provided

ENROLLMENT: Limited to 25 RNs

To register, please call Gretchen in Education Services at 18225. Registration will be confirmed by letter. It is your responsibility to follow-up with your scheduler/OPS leader to ensure the time has been secured on your schedule. Your time will be paid for attending from a central research fund. Thanks for your interest!

Faculty: Margo Halm, RN, PhD, APRN-BC, Director of Nursing Research & Quality

